Hijacking to remind everyone that American Contingency is about preparing yourself, your families, and your community. Avoiding conflict while being ready for it. We have a lot of potential members who show up looking for a militia and that's not what it's about. It's a great group and I'm proud to have been involved with it since the beginning, but if you're looking for the III%ers, you'll be disappointed.

No, but the media did make it hard with slandering and having it ingrained in the education system that it is bad.

Basically a Psyops that involve Big Tech, Deep State, Justice system, and Local officials & police[depends on the Totem pole].

There could be several reasons but here is both a bad reason and a good reason:

1. It makes it harder to not only track, but shutdown any attempts from the 'tentacles'. They then have time to prepare and spread the word of everything going active. [Good]
2. They do it because they are scared. It is the labeling and pandering ingrained over the last 3-4 decades of brainwashing the masses. [Bad]

That about sums it up for 2 reasons right there to give an idea just depends on the groups.

Because there is more to being prepared than LARPing in the woods every weekend pretending you and your buddies are Seal Team 6. Would you join a local kickball league if you were looking for a ham radio club? Now imagine the kickballers coming to the radio club meetings asking why we're not playing kickball. Different groups with different goals and mindsets.

Seems like a bit of a preventative measure. Being shut down before having the ability to leap into action would really suck balls.

Everyone is being careful what they say, especially when big tech is always so quick and willing to pull the plug.

Militias are a joke. Most of them are retarded obese LARPer who run around in the woods like clowns. Perhaps worst of all is that they are easy targets for infiltration by the feds.

As long as the feds don't try to come to the cookout when SHTF and I meet up with my group, I'm not worried about them. They can do as they please but it's worthless efforts on their parts - having connections and plans with others whether or not the feds know doesn't matter, they must abide by the constitution just as we do, and that includes the right to form coalitions/malities. I've definitely seen some really 'lame' malities, but the most important thing is that they won't be lame when SHTF and our hand is forced. The constitution is pretty 'radical' in some ways, and I'll never advocate violence but in rare events it is justified. As long as we follow the righteous path, I'd worry about anyone who tries to stop that.

This is the most important topic here. It should be at the top and stickied.

I definitely think the way to cut the gordian knot on difficulty organizing is just to show up to DC if it looks like Biden is going to be "inaugurated". That's a simple and easy to understand goal that takes little actual "organization". Get in your car, go to DC. Stay there.

If 2% of Trumps total vote showed up and said this wouldn't stand - there won't be a need for violence.

Look at Serbia and their bulldozer revolution.

Optics is most important when truth is involved so mass countrywide protests at all state capitals and county seats will be helpful if you can't make it to DC. The message to all subversives is that Patriots are good to go - everywhere - anytime - anyplace - so FAFO!

And even here I am giving benefits of the doubt. Really bad habit I have to break, we all have to break. Our collective future is too important to risk for the few bad apples just to appear as "good people" ourselves. When someone tells you who they are, believe them the first time.

It's like herding cats. We have so much energy. Everyone wants to do SOMETHING. but we need that spark to ignite the fuel. A leader to emerge that can rally the troops, focus the energy on a common goal. Have a strategy and an endgame.

What we need after new years is to gather in Virginia. Have patriots just start to gather and camp out about 10 miles outside of DC. Gather numbers. Send out word that we need reinforcements, more will show up. Soon it's a movement. Encampments spring up in other places all around DC. Then when we hit about 2-3 million we march.

Armed occupation of DC until demands are met:

1. We clean house of all in Congress. All are removed. That's a simple demand that I think a lot of Americans can get behind. Everyone hates congress. (And for good reason) New elections are held by the military.
2. Term limits for all politicians
3. Laws forbidding lobbying, PACs, donations from corporations.
4. Secure elections with vote in person, with ID, with paper ballots, ink on finger. No early voting. No vote by mail. Ballots counted by the military not by some hoodrats in the ghetto wearing Biden masks at 4am.

I'm in. I'll be heading to DC the Thursday or Friday before ID.

Setup camp, march on DC Sunday at dawn. Ideally at least 500,000-1,000,000 people.

I am committed, but also want to see this actually begin to materialize come January 1. I.e. come January 1 head to DC at the first chance you get. Stay there as long as needed to save our country. I'll get there as early as I can, but unfortunately I'm not in a position or career that will allow me to take a whole two weeks off right at the start of the new year.

I'll be there as soon as I can.

I'm spamming this everywhere the convo is appropriate. We need millions of us! We do need to be prepared to stay through 1/20 though. You understand why, right?

Thank you and I agree. Yes, definitely. If 1/6 goes poorly, 1/20 may end up being a pure (necessary) shitshow.

Worse. If 1/6 gathering seems to go well what kind of fuckery can they still pull by 1/20? It'd be nice to be able to have some confidence Ds might keep their word, but we know how that went with Reagan's amnesty deal.

Btw I got this text message from Stop the Steal:

ROLL CALL: if President Trump needs YOU, are you prepared to march and peacefully occupy DC with STOP THE STEAL to protect the President? Ali is. If you'll join him, reply back with the word READY.

I feel you man, I like to call out the doomers myself bc there's no place for bed shitters on the battlefield.

I hope this site immortalizes out back and forth banter earlier bc that what it looks like when 2 big dickd alpha chad's go at it. It would be kind of funny to juxtapose that against let's say an Antifa spat lol.

Just figure that all modes of communication are compromised from postal through digital. Also figure that in some groups 50% or higher will be opposition agents. Plan accordingly.

One caller into a radio show I listened to a couple days ago suggested Trump having his own rally on inauguration day. Apparently, the idiots running the Biden show are already downplaying the event because, muh covid. Limiting attendance, social distance, etc etc. It would be glorious to have a couple million proud, unmasked Trump supporters turn up instead!

I'm not totally sure if any upgraded memberships increase the total or not, but it's definitely good for small groups of secure comms. Telegram and Line are both good for larger scale pushing messages out, but I wouldn't consider them super secure.
